

RESP-FIT

RESPIRATOR FIT TESTING
TRAINING & ACCREDITATION | AN AIOH
PROGRAM

Are you fit testing your own workforce?

Are you providing fit testing services?

Are you interested in a recognised accreditation for fit testing?

Would you like to be able to demonstrate your competence in fit testing?

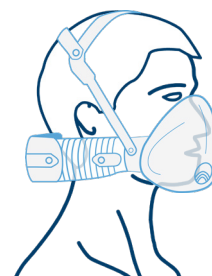

If you answered yes to any of these questions, visit www.respfit.org.au

Benefits of becoming a RESP-FIT accredited fit tester:

- Demonstrate competence and credibility through a recognised accreditation program
- Demonstrate to WHS/OHS regulators your fit testing is undertaken by a competent person
- Upon successful completion of the accreditation assessment process, accreditation is valid for 3 years
- Get a competitive edge: RESP-FIT accreditation branding and logo can be used as a promotional tool
- RESP-FIT accredited fit testers and service providers (who employ accredited fit testers) are listed on RESP-FIT website.

If you have any questions or would like to know more about our program visit www.respfit.org.au or email: respfit@aioh.org.au

RESP-FIT is a national respirator protective equipment (RPE) fit testing training and accreditation program developed and managed by the Australian Institute of Occupational Hygienists (AIOH).
